SCHOLARSHIPS & FINANCIAL AID

- Seaver Scholars – The Frank Seaver Leadership Scholarship is a full-tuition merit scholarship awarded to entering freshmen every year. This scholarship is awarded to students who demonstrate exceptional leadership promise along with a commitment to making a positive impact in the world. Throughout their time at CMC, Seaver Scholars will be expected to participate in various small group enrichment leadership programs.

Students selected will receive a merit scholarship equal to full tuition (students and their families are responsible for room and board costs as well as individual personal expenses). Additionally, two monetary stipends of $5,000 each will be granted to each Seaver Scholar to use in the pursuit of summer leadership development opportunities such as internships, community service, or academic travel. Throughout their time at CMC, Seaver Scholars will be expected to participate in various small group enrichment programs, provided with the intention of further developing their leadership potential.

Students who wish to be considered for the Seaver Leadership Award should apply to CMC by submitting The Common Application or The Coalition Application no later than December 1.

- McKenna Scholars – The McKenna Achievement Award is a merit scholarship of $15,000 given to entering freshmen every year. Finalists for the McKenna Achievement Awards are chosen from among all candidates who have the highest academic achievement and significant extracurricular activities that demonstrate sustained commitment, leadership, and personal growth.

- Interdisciplinary Science Scholars – Students with a passion for science and leadership are eligible for an Interdisciplinary Science Scholarship. This program is aimed at students interested in exploring a double or dual major that pairs science with a non-science major. The scholarship covers full tuition and is available for students with demonstrated financial need. The scholarship also supports summer fellowships, internships, or research experiences.

International Students

Any student who needs financial assistance is encouraged to apply for financial aid at Claremont McKenna College (CMC). It is important to note that only a limited amount of funding is available for international students.

Students who do not apply for or do not receive financial aid upon admission are not guaranteed they will receive financial aid or be considered for financial aid in future years while enrolled at CMC. Each year financial aid consideration will be determined based on the availability of funds.

How to Apply

CMC requires that all new students seeking need-based institutional financial aid submit the CSS Profile. An IDOC packet may be requested. This packet will consist of families' tax returns and other documents on behalf of participating colleges and programs. To find out more information about specific financial aid deadlines and application websites applicable to you, please go to Applications & Deadlines.
